

The Late Sooner

By Sally Jadlow

Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 220 pages. Jadlows story is a tale richly deserving a read by those of us now enjoying the opportunities and development of this state. The Daily Oklahoman Sanford Deering wants to stake his claim in the Oklahoma Territory on April 22, 1889. His wife, Lucy, determined to stay in Missouri, refuses to let him go. They are expecting their third child. Soon after the birth, Sanford receives a letter from a friend who staked a claim. Land is still available. The Late Sooner dramatizes the struggles, heartaches, and trials of the Deering family as they face claim-jumpers, prairie fires, and famine during the difficult years following the first land run in Oklahoma. This account depicts Sanfords life, recorded one line a day, in his ledger. Author Sally Jadlow is his great-granddaughter. Sally Jadlow took her great-grandfathers diary and wove it into an incredibly beautiful story of hope, passion, adventure, trust and faith. This is one book that will always be near to my heart. Nelda Brown, Past President, Logan County, Oklahoma Genealogical Society After the bugle sounded on April 22, 1889, there were still pockets of free land available. The Late Sooner is the story...
