Thompson: The Biography of My Grandfather. This is the story of U. S. Air Force Colonel (ret. ) Robert C. (aka Tommy) Thompson of Lompoc, California who passed away on Wednesday, May 31, 2006 at the age of 88. Tommys story is told by his youngest granddaughter Elizabeth Donahey who sat alongside her grandfather listening to and documenting his lifes recollections during the year leading up to his death in 2006. This biography is a candid yet elegant account that captures the major highlights of his life, from the hand-built town of Cactus Lake, Canada in turn of the century, to intense accounts of his days as a military leader in the battles of WWII. When Tommy went to enlist in the Army, a recruiting sergeant encouraged him to take an aviation exam instead. Although he had never been in an airplane or considered becoming a pilot, Tommy took the necessary test and was one of five who passed, out of a total of 50 that tried. He became a cadet in the Army Air...
